BEARCATS LOSE IN CLOSE GAME

THE SCORE TIED TWICE IN LAST HALF.

THE SCORE IS 18 TO 20

Visitors Displayed Better Team Work and Passing—Both Teams did poor Goal Shooting.

The "Bear Cats" lost their first game of the season last night with the Kansas City Polytechnic Junior college by a score of 18 to 20. The game started off rather slow, Poly scoring the first point in the game, and running the score up to five before the Bears got scored. The first half was rather slow throughout, both teams being unable to hit the basket with any accuracy from the field. Kansas City had many chances from the field the first half, but registered only four goals, with added five more points for the visitors in this half by taking 5 out of 6 chances from the foul line. The Bear Cats were slow in getting warmed up and they netted only two field goals. Puckett and Stewart the first half. Puckett replaced Egley at forward the middle of the first half. This half ended with the score 13 to 5 in favor of Kansas City.

The second half started off with a rush for Maryville. They brought their score up to 12 before Poly scored again. From then there was never more than 2 points difference between them, twice during this half the score was tied. With only a minute left to play the score stood 18 and. Storms made the winning goal with a long shot from the field.

Smith for the visitors was their chief point getter, making 12 of their 20 points. They displayed excellent team work through out the game. For Maryville "Big Bill" Richards tallied 5 points and played an excellent defensive game. Wells played his usual good game at guard, while King and Stewart both showed up well for their first appearance with the Bear Cats. Puckett while only registering one goal played the floor well and was accurate with his passes. The one noticeable weakness of the Bear Cats was their long incomplete passes. But this is their first game together and they made an excellent showing for the opening game. Their next game is here next Friday night when they play Tarkio college. It has been customary for the last few years to beat Tarkio and it is predicted that the present Bear Cats will not break the precedent set by their "illustruous forefathers."

LAUNCH THRIFT CAMPAIGN TODAY

TO CARRY THRIFT IDEA TO MILLIONS OF WORKERS

SOME PURPOSES OF WEEK

Arranged Under Direction of National Thrift Week Committee—Thrift Sunday Tomorrow.

New York.—In more than 300 cities throughout the country the National Thrift Week campaign was launched today to continue until January 24 as an intensive eight-day campaign to carry the thrift idea to millions of workmen in factories, industrial plants and commercial enterprises. Sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. as part of its year round economic programme the campaign has the endorsement and cooperation of the savings division of the Treasury department, the American Bankers' association, the National association of Real Estate Brokers, National Credit Men's association, Rohary and Kiwanis clubs and other national organizations related to industry and commerce.

Under the direction of the National Thrift Week committee, of which Adolph Lewisehn, New York banker is chairman, state and local committees today began the drive which will emphasize eight specific thrift obpectives during the week. Today, Benjamin Franklin's birthday, has been designated as "Band Day" "National Thrift Day." Bankers everywhere, both thru their national organization and as individuals, have joined with the Thrift Week committees in stressing the importance of banks to communities and the aid of a bank account in promoting the thrift habit.

Tomorrow is Thrift Sunday. Tomorrow many congregations will listen to sermons on the relation of money to religion. During the coming week of the thrift campaign the days have been designated as "National Life Insurance Day," "Own Your Own Home Day," "Make a Will Day," "Thrift in Industry Day," "Family Budget Day," and "Pay Your Bills Promptly Day."

Some of the purposes of National Thrift week which have been outlined by the national committee and are being put forward by local committees are:

To educate the community on the important service the financial institutions render.

To conserve through the banking institutions the educational value of the various government war loan campaigns.

To teach sound economic doctrines bearing especially on present day conditions.

To protect people from wildcat schemes and encourage them to invest in local enterprises.

To encourage every individual in the community to become the owner of a bank account.

To encourage people to own property and to help them accumulate funds with which eventually to own their own homes.

To help young men and boys to fit their incomes and abilities into the purposes of well rounded life and enable them to bear their full share of responsibility to the families, their community and their country.

To develop character. Teaching the right value of material things with a view to opening the door to a correct valuation of moral and spiritual things and an individual acceptance of the involved principles, which relate man to himself, his brother and his God.

A BIG GOOD ROADS PLAN STARTED

SIGNERS BEING SECURED

Petition Will be Filed with County Clerk When Section has been Fully Canvassed.

William Burks of Pickering, one of the prominent farmers and livest good roads boosters in the county was in Maryville today doing a little outside work for the Maryville-Hopkins good roads district. This district includes a section through Hopkins and Union townships and the north half of Polk township organized for a benefit district to secure a hard surfaced road from Maryville to Hopkins and north to the boundary of the county.

Signers to the petition are being secured readily and more than the majority of acreage included in the district proposed has been secured.

The petition for the incorporation of this district has not yet been filed with the county court as the leaders in the movement feel that it is a matter of too great importance to the property owners through the district to be hurried and plenty of time is given to the canvass so that every farmer in the proposed district will thoroughly understand the plan.

Two petitions, representing a section of the north county road, have been filed with the county clerk by the land owners living along these sections. These sections are not included in the state road survey made by the state highway department and the petitioners wish to have a change in survey when the time come to apportion state aid for the improvement.

In an interview with Mr. Burks, he stated the plan of the Maryville-Hopkins district as follows:

"The Maryville-Hopkins district follows the State Road No. 1 established by the survey made last fall by engineers from the state highway department and is about 22 miles long. It starts at the state line, joining the Iowa state road leading to Bedford. It ends at Maryville and there hooks up with the state road No. 2 established by the highway department and connecting at the Andrew county line with the state road that passes through that county and on to St. Joseph. It is a part of the system of state roads planned by the highway department and as such it will receive the approval of that department when the time comes to appropriate money for its improvement.

"But the two petitions already before the county court for action do not involve the large plans provided in our district. The first petition filed provides for a district leaving the state road at the Bridger corner just south of Hopkins and following what is known as the bottom road to Pickering. The second petitions takes in a strip of road leaving the state road at the Garten corner just south of Pickering, then a half mile west and three quarters of a mile south where it joins the state road.

"We who are working for the district along the state road have no ill feeling against those who are petitioning for the districts that deviate from that line. These men realize the value of a good road and naturally are anxious that it shall pass their land. We recognize that they have a perfect right to 'fight for their own' and we assure them there will be no hard feelings on our part if they should win in the final count. What we want is a good road—and that twelve houndred a mile the state has ready to give to the district that meets the requirements. We believe we are going to win because we are following the road surveyed and recommended by the state highway department, but the important thing is to get a good road."

'FATHER AND SON' WEEK TO BE HELD FEB. 16 TO 22

J. R. Lowry, Superintendent of Boys Department for Polk Township to Direct Activities Here.

Prof. Bert Cooper, superintendent of the young people's division of the Nodaway county Sunday school association, has received directions from Sterling Williams of Kansas City, head of the young people's work of the state association, for the carrying on "Father and Son" week campaign Feb. 16 to 22.

This campaign is a national one and each church and township superintendent will look after the activities in his own division. The feature of the week is a Father and Son banquet on the evening of February 10. This may be given either as a church or community affair. Last year it was made a community affair here and will probably be the same this year.

J. R. Lowry, superintendent of young people's work for boys for Polk township, will be in charge of the activities in this township. Mr. Lowry has called a meeting of all the pastors and Sunday School superintendents at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the office of Prof. Cooper, to decide about the work.

1920 TO BE BIG YEAR IN SPORTS

EXPECTED TO BE RECORD BREAKING IN ALL LINES

MANY BIG ATTRACTIONS

Baseball Assured of Prosperity—Many Boxing Events—Track and Field Games Scheduled.

New York.—Nineteen-nineteen was a wonderful year for sports, all things considered, but the year that is before us promises to take rank as a record-breaker in so far as American sport history goes.

Devotees of affairs of the diamond, the gridiron, the ring, the race track and athletics in general are looking ahead and not without reason, to some of the biggest events in sport history.

Baseball, having gone through the first stages of a successful comeback, is assured of prosperity. The national game promises to return to the successful plane in which it traveled in 1911-12, when it was at its highest point. For this very reason the club owners are already laying plans to spend money freely in getting together the strongest possible teams for the 1920 pennant races, and from this far off perspective the races will be anybody's. The champion Reds and White Sox will not start off with anything resembling a big edge in their favor, for rival teams will stack up just as strongly on paper.

During the coming schedule meetings of the majors in February, and even prior to that time, it is expected that a number of important player deals will be consummated. As for the political end of the game—the commission chairman question and the fight in the American League—the baseball fan has had his fill. He doesn't care a tinker's rap about any of it. He is interested mainly in the playing side of the game.

The biggest prospective boxing attraction of the year—of many years, in fact—will be the Dempsey-Carpentier heavyweight battle for the world's title. There has not been a heavyweight battle of any importance internationally since Jim Corbett knocked out Charley Mitchell. And no matter where the Dempsey-Carpentier bout is held, it will occupy the sporting spotlight, monopolizing the rays of the time for at least a month and probably several months prior to the time it is staged and even after it is decided.

Other boxing attractions are in prospect that will revive interest in the various divisions. Benny Leonard, Johnny Kilbane, Pete Herman, Mike O'Dowd and Jack Britton will all be called upon to defend their titles in championship bouts. All of these battlers have been fighting at intervals since they came into possession of their championships, but in very few instances have they crawled through the ropes in bouts that were scheduled to a decision. The stimulus that the big heavy weight battle is going to lend to the game will undoubtedly be noticed just as soon as Dempsey and Carpentier are definitely matched. Promoters will wake up and there will be a scramble for the stars of other divisions just as

JUDGE RAMSAY DIES IN CALIFORNIA

FORMER RESIDENT PASSES AWAY AT GLENDALE JAN. 8

MEMBER NODAWAY BAR

Was Elected to Kansas City Court of Appeals—Went to California in 1912

Word was received in Maryville today of the death of Judge W. W. Ramsay at Glendale, Cal., on January 8. Judge Ramsay was formerly a resident of Maryville, residing here for many years. He left here in 1912 and had resided in Glendale since that time.

Judge Ramsay was born in Andrew county, Mo., on April 6, 1850. In 1864 he left Andrew county and went to Nebraska City, and in the spring of 1866 he concluded to try his fortune in the west. Hiring as a teamster, for $45 a month, he drove an ox-team to Pikes Peak and back that summer. During the winter of 1867-8-9 he attended the public school at Hamburg, Ia., under Prof. Beard. In the fall of 1869 he came to Nodaway county and commenced teaching school. He followed this and studied law, at intervals, until the spring of 1875, when he moved to Maryville and entered the law offices of Dawson & Edwards, and in July, 1875, was admitted to the bar. That fall he formed a partnership with Judge Andrew Royal, which continued one year, after which his partner moved to St. Joseph. He then continued alone up to January 1, 1878, when he formed a partnership with John Edwards and continued several years in such relation.

From 1876 to 1878 Mr. Ramsay was chairman of the Democratic county committee of this county. The fall of 1878 he was elected as prosecuting attorney, and was re-elected in 1880. He was also elected to the Kansas City Court of Appeals. His failing health a number of years ago caused him to give up his practice. At one time W. A. Blagg was in partnership with Judge Ramsay.

The following is from the Glendale News:

The community suffered quite a shock when word reached the more immediate friends of Judge and Mrs. W. W. Ramsay that he had suddenly expired Thursday evening shortly after eating his supper. He had been in frail health for years, but had seemed to be in usual vigor and Mrs. Ramsay was quite unprepared for his going. They came to Glendale in 1912 and established themselves in a beautiful home at 137 South Adams street. People of culture and public spirit, during the war they demonstrated their patriotism in many practical ways. Previous to coming to California, deceased had practiced law in Missouri and for many years had filled a prominent place on the bench as judge in that state. To the last he kept up his interest in public affairs, both national and local, and was always ready to assist every worth cause for the uplift of the community. Besides his widow, who had planned to celebrate the twenty fifth anniversary of their wedding in the near future, he leaves a son residing in Chicago, who has been advised of his father's passing. Funeral arrangements await instructions from him, the remains in the meantime being in the care of the Jewel City Undertaking company. Mrs. Ramsay efficiently served the Tuesday Afternoon Club for two years as president, and has a large circle of friends here by whom she is greatly beloved and whose sympathy will go out to her in her great and sudden bereavement.

COLLEGE CREDITS FOR WAR SERVICE

STATE SCHOOL HEADS HOLD CONFERENCE AT CAPITOL.

CHANGE IN SALARY LAWS

All Life Diplomas Granted by the State Teachers Colleges Require Completion of 120 Hours

Upon the return of President Richardson of the Maryville State Teachers College with the presidents of the State Teachers colleges, the president of the state university, and the state department of education at Jefferson City last week he announced the following regulations adopted by the conference as to credit awarded for war service. A maximum of twelve hours credit being granted for service in the various military forces of the United States of America which is apportioned approximately as follows: service for twelve months or more, 12 hours; 6 months, 9 hours; 3 months, 6 hours.

It was also a sense of the conference that as soon as possible dependent upon satisfactory legislation concerning the various grades of certificates for teachers and also conditioned upon suitable legislation by the General Assembly of 1921 with reference to minimum salary laws, all life diplomas granted by the Teachers colleges should require the completion of 120 hours and that all certificates granted by the Teachers colleges should require at least 60 hours of college work.

It was also the decision of the conference that as soon as possible the Teachers colleges begin to place all secondary work in that division of their work known as demonstration or observation schools.

These were among the more important steps taken by the conference whose session consumed some four hours and at which a report was made by the visiting committee of conference regarding their visit and inspection of the several state colleges and the college of liberal Arts, of Agriculture, and the school of Education at Columbia.

G. B. Holmes, Jr., went to Kansas City this morning to attend a banquet of the North American Life Insurance Co., which will be given there tonight. Delegates from Oklahoma and Missouri will be present at the banquet.

APPROVED RURAL SCHOOLS GROUPED

CLASSIFIED UNDER STANDARD AND SUPERIOR SCHOOLS.

FIVE POINTS OF MERIT

Instructions of State Superintendent of Schools on Plan of Work to be Followed.

Approved rural schools in Missouri have been placed in two classes: the standard school and the superior school. The following letter from State Superintendent of Schools S. A. Baker to County Superintendent Bert Cooper tells of the plan:

"The scheme of rural school approval has met with hearty response by teachers, superintendents and school officers throughout the state.

"It is no longer an experiment, but the scheme has demonstrated its merits in hundreds of cases where rural school boards have added to the equipment, lengthened the term, and have provided sanitary conditions, better libraries, better salaries for teachers, and developed a better school spirit.

"Schools have been approved by this department which have met certain requirements. I feel that the time has come when two classes of approved schools should be recognized, namely, the Standard school an dthe Superior school.

"The requirements for a Standard school will remain the same as those of the approved school of the past, while some additional requirements will be made for the Superior school. For example:

"1. The library must contain at least 200 volumes suitable for school work.

"2. The teacher must hold a first grade certificate or higher and receive at least $85 per month.

"3. The teacher must have four years of high school work or its equivalent.

"4. The school must score 90 or more points.

"5. The school must hold at least four community meetings during the school year.

"This classification is made in the belief that many schools will meet the additional requirements and thus be recognized as a Superior school. Will you kindly call the attention of your teachers and boards to this opportunity which is offered to increase still more the efficiency of the schools under their charge.

"I am having new inspector's reports prepared for both Standard and Superior school and will furnish you a supply in a short time."

Michael had $10,000 Sale.

The largest farm sale reported in this community for some time was held by J. H. Michael Monday, the total reached being $10,000. And this amount did not include Mr. Michael's sheep which were advertised but only a few of which were sold. Bidding was slow on them, and after one pen had been sold the others were taken out.

"I am $2,000 better off than I thought I was," Mr. Michael said Tuesday. "I thought the sale would total about $10,000, but that amount included the sheep. I secured that much and still have $2,000 worth of sheep.

POSTOFFICE MAY SEND LETTERS BY WIRE

Flat Rate of Thirty Cents per Hundred Words Is Provided in Bill by Representative Kitchen.

Washington, Jan. 17.—A provision under which the postoffice department will be authorized to make a contract with the telegraph companies for transmission of night letters at a flat rate of 30 cents for each hundred words will be inserted in the postoffice deficiency bill by Representative Kitchen.

By the use of an invention which transmits written words instead of dots and dashes, the telegraph companies are prepared to install this service, similar in many respects to the night letter service.

The plan contemplates that such messages shall be mailed to the manager of a local telegraph company, the envelope bearing the required 30 cents in stamps.

These envelopes will be cashed in each month to the postoffice department for the face value of the cancelled stamps. The only cost to the goverment will be the printing of the stamps, but it is believed the service will be of immense benefit to the business interests of the country.

The Advertisements Are More Than Type & Talk

The reason that the world is so much more comfortable and convenient a place nowadays, is because advertising has made it possible for merchants and manufacturers to tell you what they have to offer, without waiting for the news to spread by word of mouth.

The advertiser has been able to tell many people at once about his goods. In this way he can sell a great many more articles in a given time and therefore more cheaply. Because of advertising it has been possible to invent, develop and market countless articles of comfort that you now think of as necessities, which some years ago even the wealthy could not have bought. It would not have paid to make a few to order.

The advertisements are something more than type and talk. They are a daily service your paper furnishes you in addition to the other important news of the world.

The Course of Thrift

In the columns of this paper you will find the advertisements of alert, progressive merchants and manufacturers who are telling you something they believe you ought to know.

This advertising is news. Real news about the very things that interest you most—articles that will save your money, lessen your work, or add materially to your comfort and well-being.

Thrifty men and women read advertising. To them it is a plain every-day business proposition—a duty to themselves and to their pocketbooks.

It tells them where they can buy exactly what they want at a price they can afford to pay.

Advertising pays them. They make it pay.

It will pay you too.

A few minutes spent in reading the "ads" at home, on the car, or at the office, is well worth while.

Why Martha Washington School Is Becoming Famous

The Martha Washington school south of Maryville has become the mecca o many distinguished educators from al over this country one from South America and another from Russia. Th leading magazines have carried stories and photographs of her achievements The county points with pride for her example of what can be done when a progressive school board backed up at up to date community get a vision and begin to believe, that real boys and girls are worth as much consideration as Bellows' or Ogdens' Shorthorns These people asked themselves, "Why should Nodaway county lead the world in Shorthorns, Aberdeen Angus cattle and Poland China hogs then produce scrub boys and girls. Then answered this question not in words or much talking but by immediate acting and paying. This district did not wait to see how much Lawrence Ogden's sale pavilion would cost or what Ed Caldwell was going to spend in equipping his cattle barns this year and then try to match that but they began to think in terms of boys and girls in their homes. They did this thinking in time to avoid the embarrassing excuse that confronts so many good school teachers. "We would like to improve our school and hire a good teacher but we don't have the money." They got busy first and voted 65 cents for school maintenance and 40 cents for building fund.

One of the board members who is a bachelor with no relatives in school but owns a fine farm and a big heart said, "If we hadn't had a big valuation we would have voted more but think this will be all the money we need." The board came to the county superintendent after they had voted their money and informed him that they wanted one of the best vitalized agriculture teachers in the county for the work had got a good start there and they wanted to keep it going. The board did the logical thing by first securing a good teacher and then making their improvements afterwards for a good teacher is the first essential in every school. They did not wait for applications but went out after a teacher early in the season and hence had some choice.

With a vitalized agriculture, teacher Miss Eula Snowberger employed and safely contracted this board began their improvements. They wanted an up to date heating and ventilating system. One of the board members, Mr C. D. McKibban, visited other schools and studied their plants. The whole board investigated a number of different makes. They have now installed one of the best and most attractive systems in the whole county. Fresh air is taken from outside, heated and sent out over the room and foul air driven out. An entire change is made in air every twelve minutes.

The school building and outbuildings are in splendid repair and nicely painted. A new fence has just been erected and painted white, in keeping with the balance of the scenery. The building was equipped last year with work bench, tools and apparatus for farm carpentry in vitalized agriculture work This year the board has added a new modern Perfection coal oil cook stove and a complete cooking outfit. The children each day in turn prepare a hot lunch at noon. This makes a motive for studying cooking. Last Thursday when a company of four educators were studying the work of this school at recess with no orders or questions two little girls, Dorothy McCord, age 11 and Agnes McKillip, age 15, passed back to the kitchen part of the room and began peeling potatoes and by the the time the bell rang they had the dinner all on to cook. No school time lost, no commotion. We were told that the next day two other children would cook and serve. The menu is made out by a committee selected by the children to act for a limited time. Each pupil is assigned certain foods to bring to school on certain days. These children can tell you why each meal has to have a certain aount of carbohydrates, fats and proteins and what foods furnish these. They say, It is important that boys and girls have a balanced ration as it is for pigs and calves."

Table etiquette is one of the things emphasized in the hot lunch at Martha Washington school and twenty seven children each day practice the best manners well bred society. The progressive school board in this district consist of F. C. Kelly, pres., Lester Lyle, clerk; C. D. McKibban and Ed Crossan, all of Maryville, Mo.

SELF STARTERS FOR HORSES AND MULES.

"Self Starters for Horses and Mules" is a sign displayed in one of the exhibitors' booths at the manufacturers' show at Convention hall. About the sign is hung a multifarious variety of whips and big whips. Those who believe that the motor car, motor truck and tractor have caused a depletion in the number of horses and mules might change their opinions, or leastways conclude that what horses and mules there are must be lazy, after looking at the whips on display. The booth is that of a New England manufacturing company, one of the comparatively few companies in the United States engaged in the extensive manufacture of whips.

"The belief so general, particularly in the cities, that the horse and mule is about out of business because of the motor car is wrong," said C. K. Smith, president of the company. "There are fully one-fourth more horses and mules under harness today in the United States than at any other period of history. There are fewer in the cities, of course. But the increased number of horses and mules in the rural districts makes up for the city shortage, and more, too.

"More whips are sold in this country than ever before, and the demand is more general for whips of good quality. We are turning out buggy whips that sell from $2 a dozen to $300 a dozen wholesale.

Few people know that the buggy whip is strictly an American article. It was invented by a Yankee more than one hundred years ago, and America is the only place where it is manufactured. The stock and lash whip, however, originated in Europe.

"Despite the fact that although the buggy whip is manufactured exclusively in this country, all of the raw material from which it is made, excepting the thread, is imported. The whalebone used in its manufacture comes from the Arctic Ocean, the rattan from the South Sea islands, and the rawhide, which is made from the skin of the carabao, comes from the Philippine Islands, or some other place where the climate is extremely warm."—K. PAYS $3,000 FOR 9 KEGS OF MISSOURI RIVER WATER.

St. Joseph, Mo.—A. T. Hussar, a local saloonkeeper, paid $3,000 here the other day for nine kegs of Missouri River water.

According to Hussar's story to the police, he bought the liquid from a stranger, but not until he had tested it and found it worth the money.

However, Hussar "sampled" the "wet" goods through a rubber tube, one end of which was supposed to extend into each of the kegs in turn, and the "sampling" occurred in a dark, secret cellar. Hussar now holds the belief that the tube led to a flask in the stranger's pocket.

No trace of the river water salesman has been found by the police.

TOWEL, WASH RAG, SOAP, UNIQUE ADMISSION "FEE."

Cincinnati, Ohio.—The admission "ticket" presented by those who attended a group of plays, and dances given here for the benefit of the children of devastated Palestine consisted of a package containing a Turkish towel, a wash rag and a bar of soap.

This unique admission fee was desired, Miss Clara Ravine, chairman of the affair, explained, because towels, wash rags and soap are greatly needed in Palestine.

Miss Carrie Street returned last night from a two weeks visit at Bethany, Mo., where she was a guest of her brother, Herman Street.

The Other News Columns

Out of the tangle of daily happenings your paper relates the outstanding incidents, the things that tell of progress in the world of events. That is the news everybody reads.

But the knowing person reads the other news columns as well. Here are related the significant affairs of the more intimate world of buying and selling.

A new household invention, a better soap, a more economical food, a more durable fabric—these are the events that guide our personal expenditures. Such news is found in the advertising columns, together with reminders of the faithful service rendered by more familiar products.

Advertising is a guide to you; it is a declaration of faith on the part of the advertiser. His faith in his goods prompts him to invest money in addressing a public that constantly demands honest merchandise. It is through the advertising columns that you get in touch with such straightforward manufacturers.

Consistent advertising is pretty clear evidence of trustworthy quality. The futility of advertising poor quality was realized long ago.

A few minutes' daily reading of the advertisements brings the knowledge so necessary for careful buying.

Five Simple Don'ts

The Chicago school of Sanitary Instruction issues bulletins as part of its health educational work. In a recent bulletin five "health don'ts" were given. They are interesting not only because they will really help to maintain health if carefully followed, but because they seem to have so little to do with the ordinary person's conception of health rules. They say nothing about medicines or diets or exercises. They seem very simple, yet they require sincere attention and persistent effort in carrying out. They are:

"Don't hurry and don't worry.

"Don't get mad.

"Don't talk politics unless you can keep cool about it.

"Don't run for cars; there will be another along after a while.

"Don't eat too much meat, and don't overeat at all."

The end of winter is frequently a trying and disagreeable time. Human beings grows impatient for spring. The careful observance of these "don'ts" and the positive "do's" which they imply will help greatly not only to lessen the colds and headaches of the indoor days, but also to lighten the gloom of the period.—St. Joseph Gazette.

Missouri Farms Growing Larger.

Jefferson City, Mo.—After tabulating 190,933 of the 277,244 farms in the state, Secretary Jewell Mayes of the Missouri State Board of Agriculture authorizes the statement that Missouri farms are growing larger, and that the average acreage of 124 acres in 1910 has increased to 127.8 acres per farm.

He further says that in 1919 there grew an average of 18 acres of winter wheat per Missouri farm, 8 acres of oats, 8 acres of timothy and clover cut for hay, and 52 acres for pasture. The foregoing figures are released by permission from the forthcoming report for the year 1919, now in press, and which will appear in the 1920 Year Book.

Don't Spoon in Pink Room.

London.—If she's a pretty girl and you can't afford to get married, stay away from rooms decorated in light or bright reds, while to hang around a room done in pink is positively dangerous. That's the verdict of J. Allen Pattreivoux, color expert.

"Light red, bright red and pink possess what is called the 'love element,'" writes Pattreivoux, "and under these influences love, courtship and marriage take place."

But when the pink lampshade or whatknot has worked its spell let the young couple who are decorating their flat stop at pink. A deeper shade might wreck even a honeymoon.

"The deeper and darker reds, such as crimson, turkey red, maroon, etc., possess the passion element, and under their influences anger, irritation and passion are aroused," warns the colorologist. "Crimes are committed and the whole of life disturbed generally."

The style committee of the National Cloak, Suit and Skirt Manufacturers' Association recommended skirts from three to four inches shorter than at present for the 1920 season.

Fifteen thousand young women have been "sworn in" by the New York probation association to aid in protecting the morals of girls.

The Massachusetts minimum wage commission has decided that the lowest wages that a girl can live decently on is $12.50 per week.

BIG YEAR IN SPORTS

soon as the bidding for the big plum is settled.

Every gridiron classis of any consequence was revived by the big football teams of the country last fall, but coaches were unable to turn out their best products. By next fall all the wrinkles will have been ironed out of the grid game and it will return to its old plane of play without the tendency to be erratic.

Track and field games during the year will borrow some timulus from the coming Olympic games at Antwerp. American athletes will have a great time contesting for places on the American team, and the trial meets that will be staged to select the men who will carry the red, white and blue to the big Belgian stadium next summer will attract more interest than ever before.

Horseracing stuck by its guns all through the war and prospered. The 1919 season was a harvest for many owners and all of the big blue ribbon events were attended by enthusiastic thousands. Rowing also came back, but it lacked the prestige that it will enjoy this year with the Poughkeepsie regatta revived.

Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock IV is already undergoing repairs at a Long Island haven and will soon be ready to take the water for trial sails. The coming races for the America's cup promise to be the most interesting in history.

Americans as a people are looking at sports with a new light in their eyes. They are playing harder than ever before and they will "root" harder, too. The after effects of the war are seen in the enthusiasm with which the "Yankee" is doing things in sport.

DANIELS LETTER MADE PUBLIC AT WAR MEDAL PROBE TODAY

Washington, Jan. 17.—"Don't let the British pull the wool over your eyes we would as soon get British as German." These were the instructions recited by Admiral Sims before his departure from the United States to take command of the American fleet overseas during the war, he testified this afternoon before the senate committee to probe awards of navy medals and crosses by Secretary Daniels. That Sims received instructions was referred to in a letter from the admiral to Daniels which was made public at the hearing.

McADOO WILL BE CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENTIAL NOMINATION

Washington, Jan. 17.—William G. McAdoo will be a candidate for the presidency. This positive assertion was made here today by a friend of the former secretary of the treasury.

Fayette, Mo., has decided to take over the light plant upon expiration of the contract of the present operating company, Jan. 31, 1920, and the city will operate the light and water plants under the one management.

Cats in Fashion in London.

London.—"To let the cat out of the bag," must have come from an old fad in England, probably in Elizabeth's time, and now again coming on top in the cycle of fashion.

For the ladies of Mayfair, Belgravia and other London contact points of wealth and beauty, have taken up cats. They have taken them up in bags; and the bags are heavily embroidered and so capacious that only the head of the cat peeps out.

At a fashionable tea place in Bond street today, no fewer than six women appeared with cats in bags; and at least one of them lowered her saucer, into which she had poured her small apportionment of milk, to the level of her lap, and then the cat had a lap.

Even men have been seen carrying cats in bags in the parks. While the fashion is to hold the bagged cat in the arm, one oroginal woman had a short handle to her bag, and pussy in a lump swung at her knees, peeking out over the top all the more wistfully.

An electrical method of carrying warmth to the bottom of oil wells has been found in many cases greatly to increase the flow of oil.

Turner, superintendent of official testing. Beginning her test when more than eleven years old she is the first Jersey in the world to produce over 850 pounds of butterfat in a year. This record places her above the eleven-year-old record of Sophie 19th of Hood Farm, the former world's champion Jersey of all ages, who produced 847.87 pounds of fat from 15,948.2 pounds of milk. Incidentally this record breaks the present Missouri state record in the mature Jersey class by 72.55 pounds of fat. She is now the state champion over all breeds and all ages.
